A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE SJC ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

PRE-WORLD WAR II

The SJC Alumni were originally organized as a “sports” group already from pre-World War I days, specializing in soccer in which they were quite strong. ‘Were known then as the “All Blacks” strangely enough because of the black uniforms they wore. Had their headquarters in Chinatown. After the second World War they were known as the “Old Boys”.

1950

Bro. Aloysius Soden, S.M., Principal of SJC, took the initiative to get together a nucleus of the alumni to give them a formal set up in 1950, for the purpose of renewing bonds of loyalty to their Alma Mater and of fostering good fellowship among alumni, current students and friends of St. Joseph's. Objectives were set, officers elected and activities organized. Their first dance took place in the school's gymnasium in the early fifties and thereafter became an annual dinner-dance that took place at the former Yokohama Union Club or the Y.C. & A.C. There were also sporadic round-ups for various sports activities.

1960

A banner year for the Association. Its Scholarship Fund was initiated to assist SJC students who have lost their bread winning Parent/s, etc. How is the Scholarship Fund increased? By the income from the annual dinner dances and the annual contributions of the members. A number of lads have already been helped by this Fund. It should be mentioned too that this Scholarship Fund has acted a catalyst to keep the Alumni strongly united in close ranks.

1975

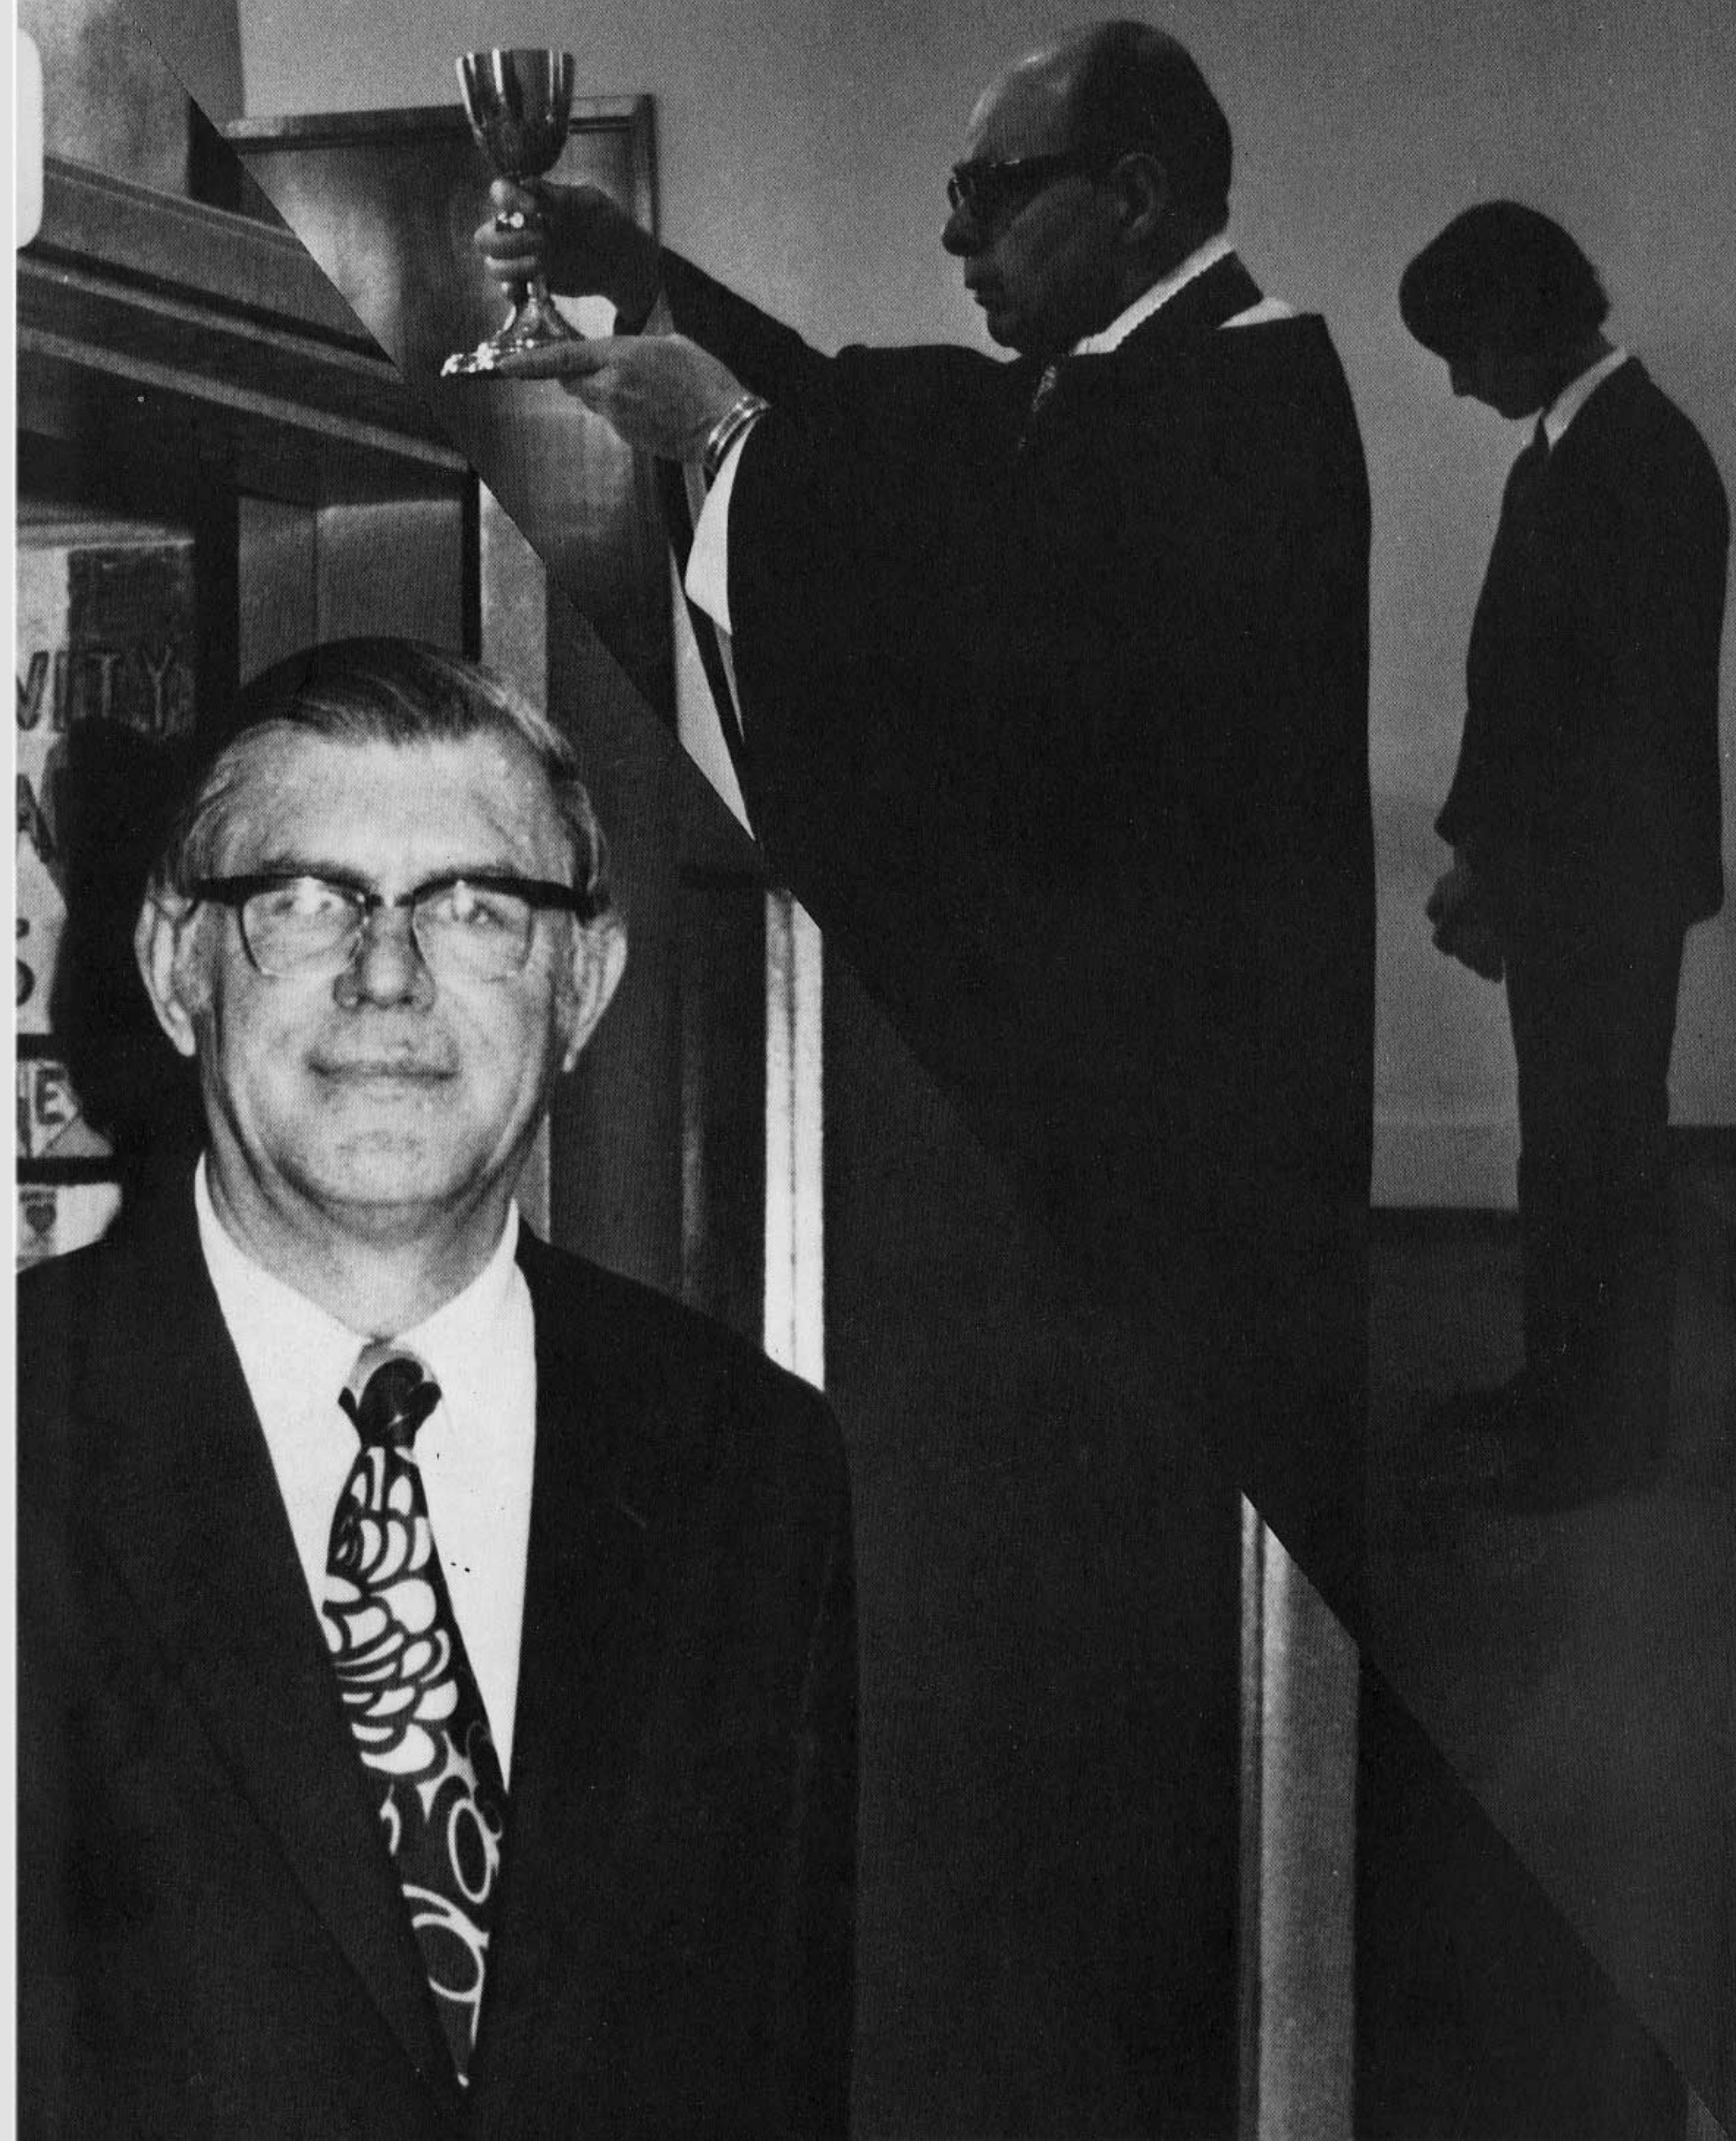

The achievement of Twenty-FIVE YEARS of loyal and dedicated service to our Alma Mater with a deep sense of gratitude to the Marianists and the Lay Teachers who taught us over the years. We are happy to have reached our SILVER JUBILEE.

2000

Class of 1975 Silver Jubilee. Our Golden Jubilee Year when new generations of SJC students will have joined our band wagon to further the work of a great school, our Alma Mater.

My dear Seniors :

As I compose this final missive to you, THE CLASS OF 1975, I do so while confined to my bed in the Bluff Hospital recuperating from a physical ailment. The thought has occurred to me that we are so frail as human beings and so vulnerable to the trials and vicissitudes of life. Yet, we must work and pray each day for the physical and moral strength to perform the tasks assigned to us in life. We must never allow setbacks to discourage us or deter us from achieving our goals. At all costs we must be as optimistic as possible in everything we engage in.

You all have had your "ups and downs" as the years passed by here at SJC. I am assured that you have grown up in the process and have learned to attack problems in a realistic way. Your teachers have been very instrumental in this maturing process. You should always be indebted to them for their guidance and counseling.

As you pursue your goals in life, always recall what you have learned at SJC and attempt to put these principles into practice. We always want you to be MEN OF ST. JOSEPH COLLEGE.

The faculty and I extend to you and your parents our warmest congratulations on the occasion of your graduation.

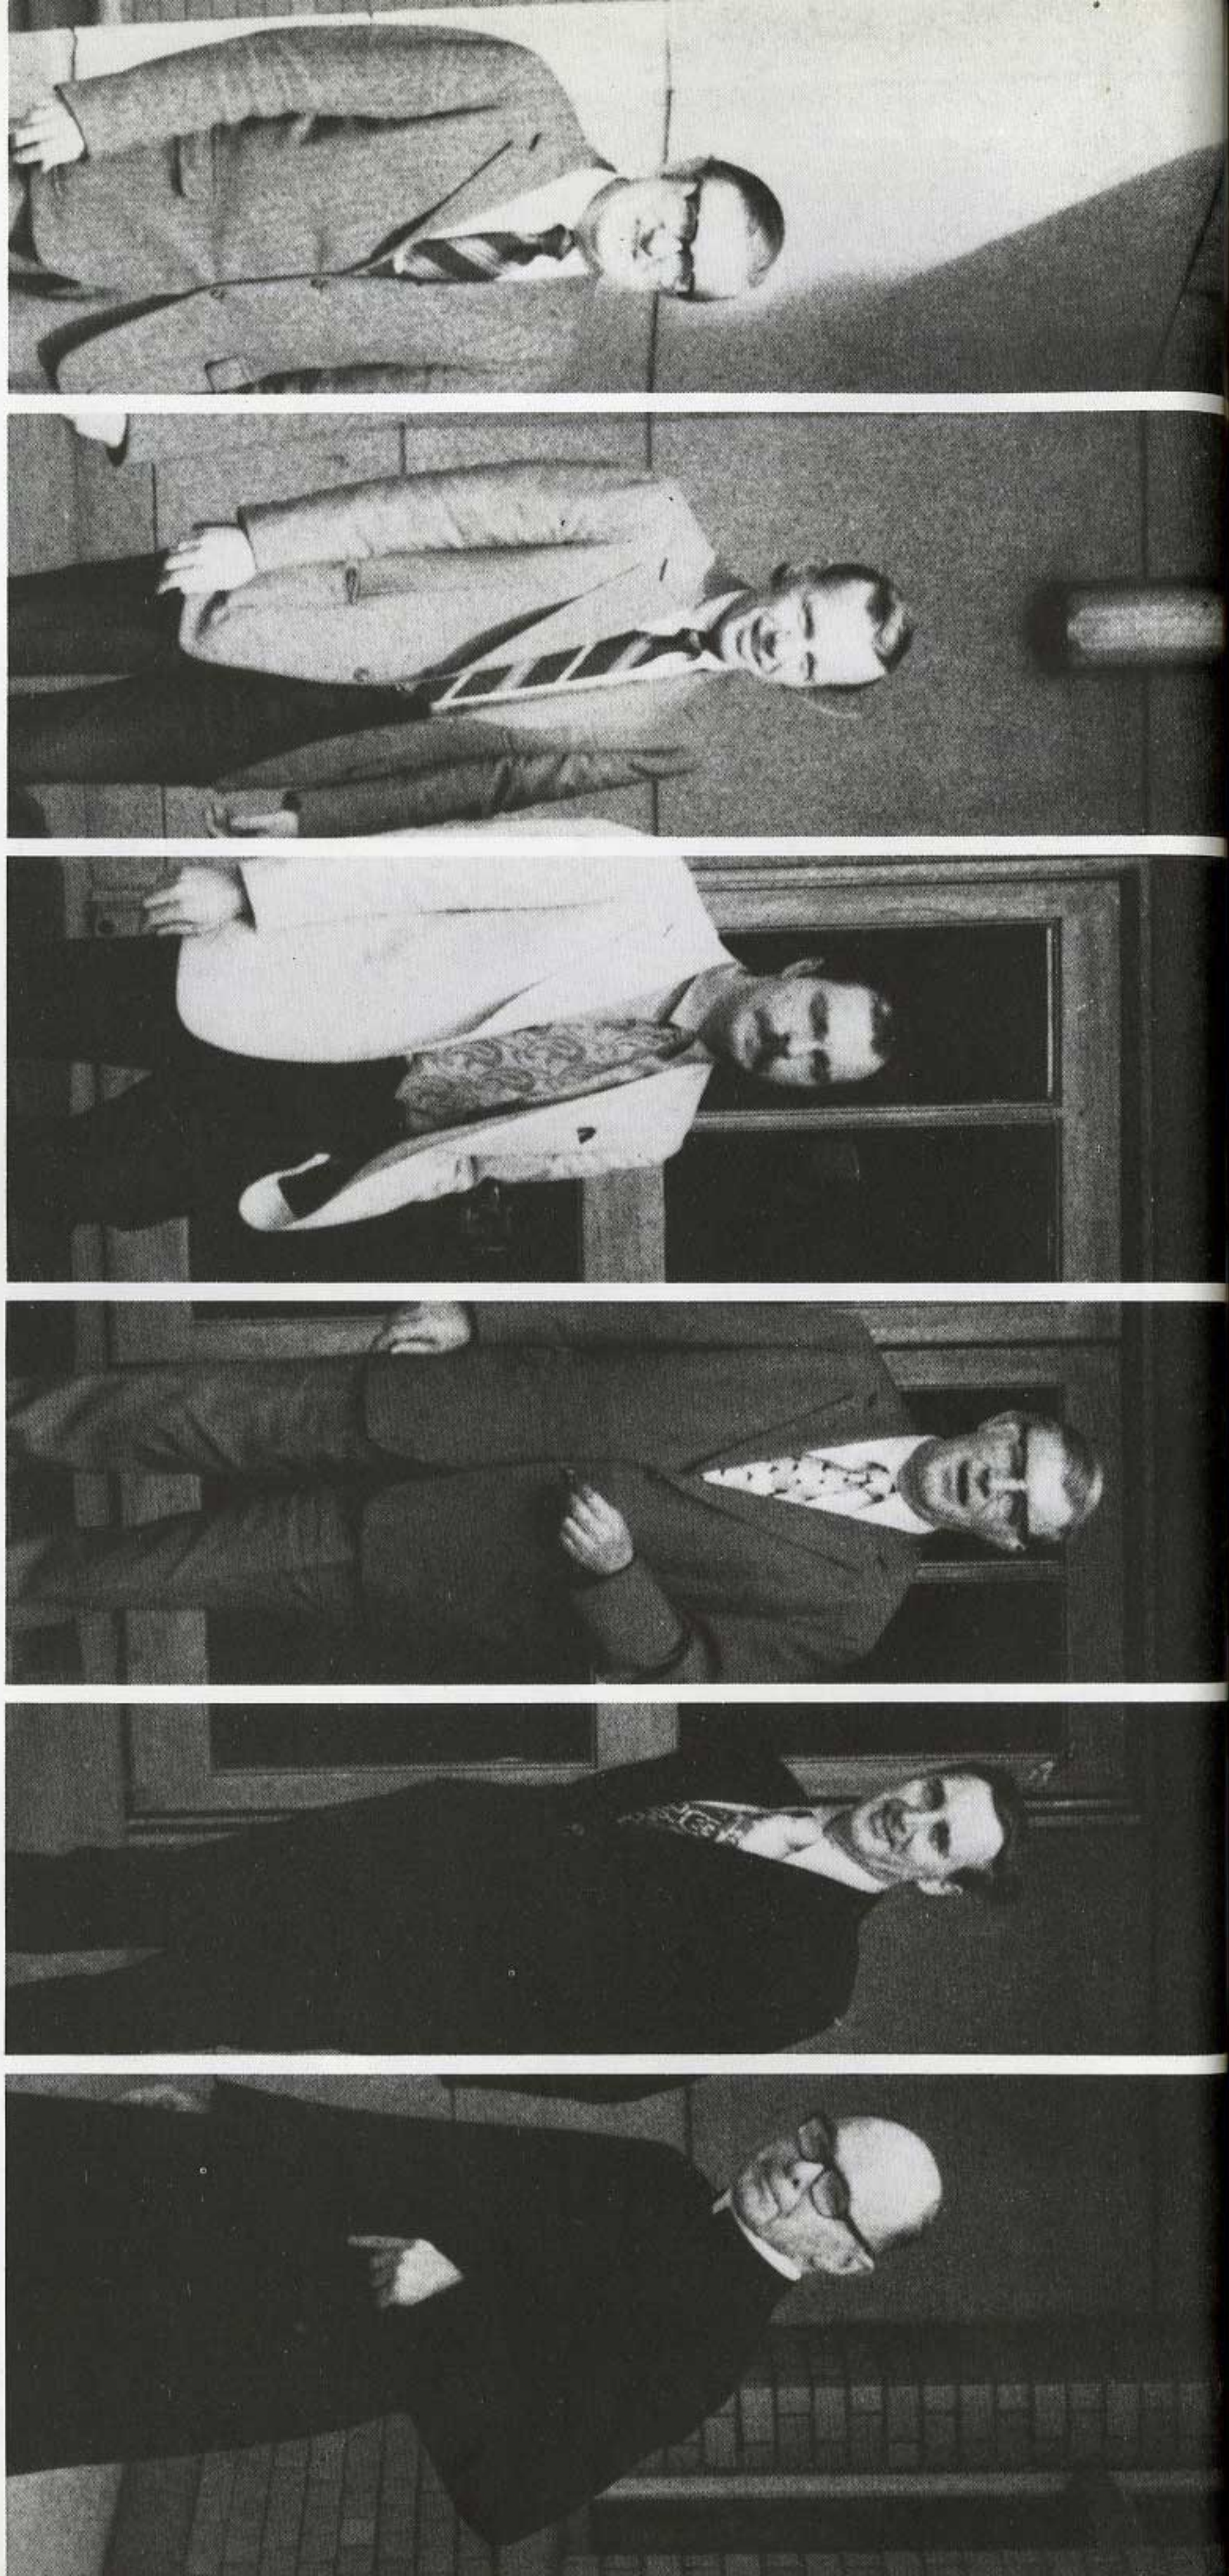

Most sincerely,

Introducing Our Staff

osias photographer upp employee

When one considers how reluctant Osias is in taking photos, it's just amazing to see that the Forward has enough to fill most of the pages. Using his technical know-how in this art that made him the chairman of the photo-club, he had just about made the use of his rather plain Pentax, Kaneko and Basco to carry on the Forward tradition of a photo book. But then nobody can deny all the sleepless and cold nights he spent to make photos in a rush until he found a shop which DPE'd in only slightly a longer time.

kaneko all around helper upp trainee

With the Forward being opened up to all the high school students, the first underclassman to take advantage of this was Kaneko. He took pictures when the photographer was unavailable (for whatever reasons), worked on layout, saw the proofs, and was harassed by the treasurer. Tasting a bit of this work, next year's product should be something that reflects the 75th anniversary of SJC.

sekino treasurer upp sha-in Succeeding Kimura of last year, Sekino continued a year old tradition of the varsity-soccer captain holding the office of treasurer. His serious attitude to the large amount of money involved in this business checked the reckless spending of the editor so that despite the skyrocketing costs and the dramatic drop of the ads, Forward has some chance of staying in the black. He really deserves a great recognition for this. Also it was he who kept yelling out, "Busi, ore wa Kaneko da!!" to unsuspecting girls walking on the street below the Forward room.

zoe jepko business manager upp employee

In the first part of the year, Zoe had pleaded with his classmates continuously to bring more ads in. However, the response was not good and the number of ads fell considerably lower this year, making Ronald's work easier. Zoe, on the other hand, had more work, and with the services of the asst. ed. he sped around town (but spending most of his time in Roche) looking for ads. He made it up, though, by mailing out over 350 letters to various companies for donations.

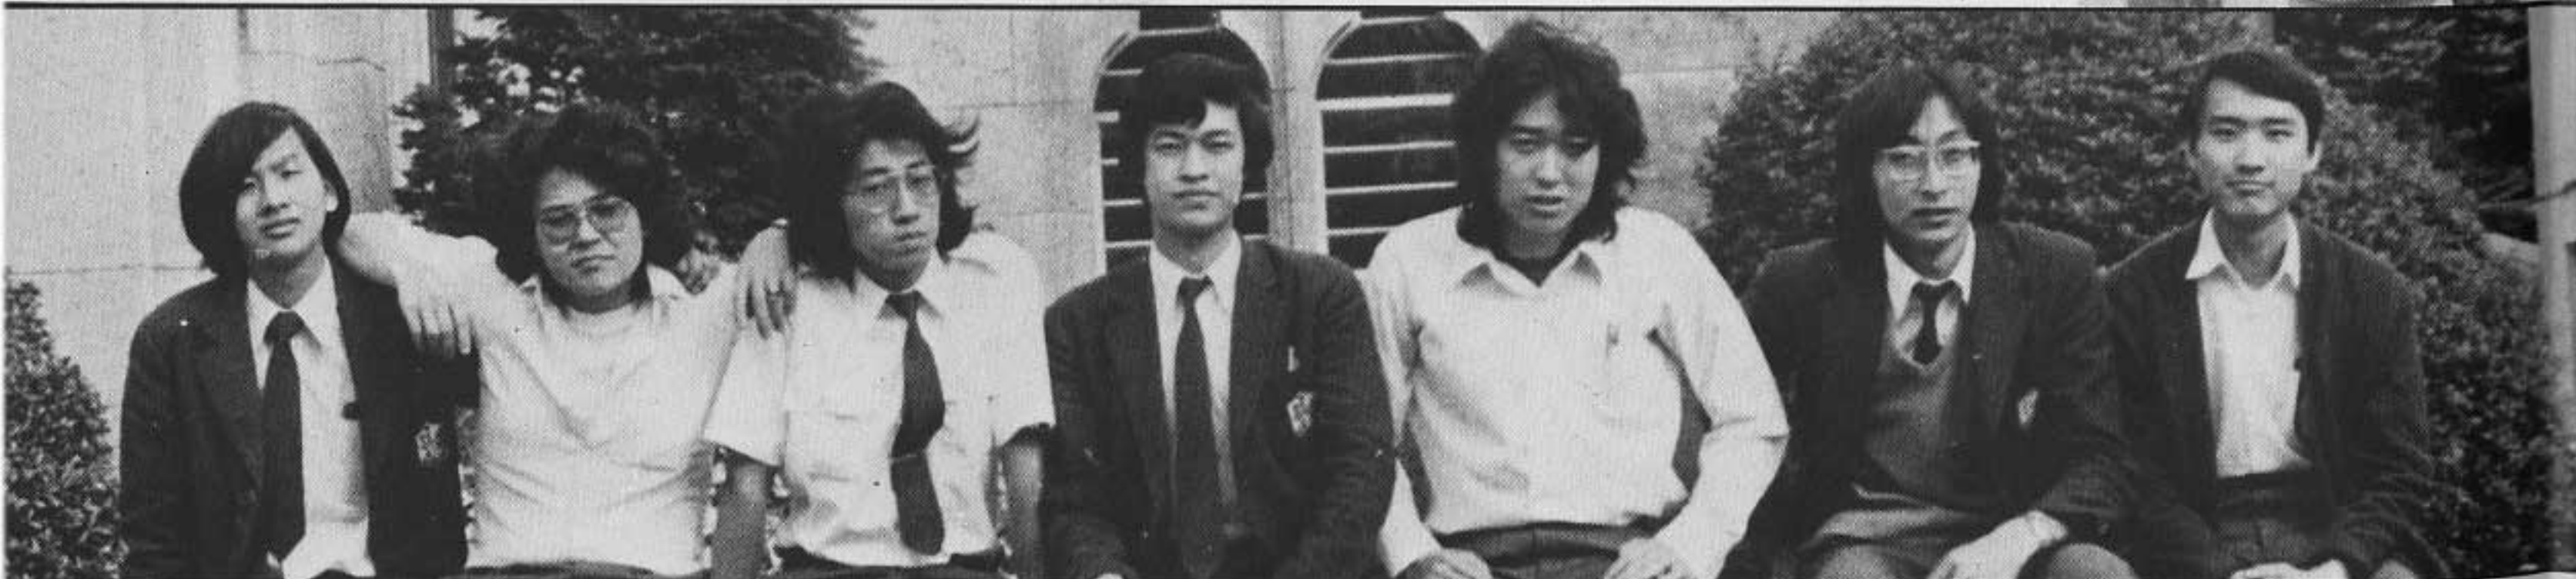

ronald ad editor upp vice-president

Ronald made the entire staff angry by taking off to the States (just to look for a lousy college nobody's ever heard of) during our holiday-less Christmas holidays. However, since the business manager didn't go out to get ads, Ronald finished his section before the others, and proudly insists the ads will be the best part of the book this year. So please, readers, take a look at the ads, for Ronald; he'll appreciate it.

victor artist upp employee

There's not much to say about his work. We just gave him a picture or photograph or suggestion and he just came up with them. What a pleasant surprise when we figured we didn't have a capable artist on our staff. Our apology to Victor for our underestimation of his capability and the editor personally apologizes for constantly calling him "....." Sorry, Victor.

shin-chan layout editor upp president

Despite the various overwhelming physical handicaps (frailty, knee trouble, chronic cold, enlarging bald spot, etc.) Shin-chan proved himself a worthy layout editor. He had to listen to all the complaints that the editor and the ad editor had, but seldom took his gripes anywhere else, except on some lousy layouts. And it isn't true he did no work. He laid out half the book.
